Care Instructions	Hardwood Cleaning Remove any loose surface deposits with a soft bristled brush and wipe down with fresh water and a non-abrasive cloth. Oiling Oiling of timber will postpone natural greying, repel moisture, improve mould resistance, help maintain a smooth surface texture and enhance the grain and colour. To maintain, lightly sand rough areas of timber and brush on one coat of timber decking oil every 6 months or as required. Powder-Coat Cleaning Carefully remove any loose surface deposits with a wet sponge or soft bristled brush. Use a soft (non-abrasive) cloth or brush and a diluted solution of mild detergent and warm water. Ensure surfaces are thoroughly rinsed with clean fresh water after cleaning to remove all residues. Never use thinners, abrasive cleaning agents, alcohol-based, acid or alkali cleaning agents. Hot-Dip Galvanised Steel For general cleaning of bulk contaminants such as dirt and the like, ordinary laundry soaps can be satisfactorily used. For more stubborn or larger areas, the use of a low-pressure wash (eg. a gurney gun) with just pure water or in conjunction with proprietary cleaning materials, such as car wash or truck wash, can be effective. It is important that the steel be washed down with fresh water after cleaning. The cleaning treatment of the galvanising should be conservative at first and then if the situation demands, the treatment can become steadily more aggressive. Also, wherever some form of mechanical abrasion or “scrubbing” is required, the use of a hard, plastic bristle brush is recommended. Steel bristle brushes are not to be used since they will cause discolouration. Mechanical methods of cleaning zinc surfaces can cause aesthetic issues. The “cleaned” areas are likely to contrast with adjacent untreated surfaces and may take a significant period of time to weather to a uniform colour. If aesthetics is a large concern, it is advisable to first test the cleaning method in an inconspicuous area in case the aesthetic effect is unappealing.
